Personal statement

I am an extremely innovative and productive individual bent on constant intellectual growth to fuel my primary endeavours in the creative industry that include numerous goals in creativity and positive development of existing entertainment and commercial/industrial systems. My strengths lie in my superior/fresh outlook and perseverance to be seamless with learning and improvement that I define as a compound function of cumulative yielding intellectual and industrial progress.

Notwithstanding, I have gained valuable and applicably relevant exposure in areas (of the "creative" industry) that I had found and prepared to meet and progress through, upon the multifarious stages of education (all of which are available in parts -upon request- that exposition the equipment my knowledge and skills had gained) over the years.

I aim to seek, learn, excel, produce and progress exponentially in all endeavours I chance upon. For such a pursuit, I wish to render all my heart and strength in humble servitude wishing for the valuable opportunities, exposures and experience you harbour in return for my hard work.
