

Dear Hiring Personnel,

Hello, my name is Edmon Armstrong. I am sending this cover letter to show my interest in working for your team. I hope with this letter and additional material. I can convey my dedication to my chosen career field. While my attached resume will provide you a broad overview of my work history, educational background and problem solving abilities. Please allow me to highlight my skills in more professional specifics.

- You are looking for a strong interest in Media, Film and Television.
  - It is one of my top career goals to work in a collaborative work environment with a like-minded team, whose focus is creative multimedia.
  - I have held multiple crew positions in top television productions from CBS, CW, PBS, Discovery, Fox, Netflix, Universal and Walt Disney.
  - I am someone who possess a clear understanding of their long-term career goals in the film and television industry.
  - I am a self-starter and ambitious in all areas of my work.
- You are looking for evidence of strong creative skills.
  - I have studied traditional and non-traditional creative practices in multiple media related fields.
  - I have created and produced original content from pre, principal and post production for PBS and CW / CBS.
- You are looking for good organizational skills and production flow familiarity.
  - I have great organizational skills that helped me balance college and a Full-time job in a fortune 500 media production company.
  - I am well verse in Production Software / Programs and Adobe Suite Software.
  - I have application familiarity with Microsoft Office software as well as Google organizational applications.

Being able to have a position with your company would greatly impact my career goals with exceptional production experiences, and open doors that would otherwise be shut. As demonstrated above, my skills and abilities closely match the desired qualifications for an individual seeking a position on a creative team. I hope with this cover letter I have displayed how committed I am to my chosen career filed. If additional material and work samples are needed please feel free to contact me at any time to inquire.
