Summary

I'm a storyteller. I write, direct and edit, which I believe are fundamentally the same thing, even though they require different skills. I came one year ago to the US thanks to an O-1 Visa, also called "Individuals with Extraordinary Abilities", and since then I've been freelancing for different companies, editing trailers, promos and sizzle reels, and a feature film.

While living in Spain I directed and/or edited feature documentaries, tv shows, commercials, music videos. I optioned a couple of screenplays and next year I'll be shooting my first live action feature film as a director.
