

VISUAL STORY GUIDE

Long before humanity ruled the Earth, it was an ancient fish-human race known as the Deep Sea Royalty who dominated this planet. They hunted human ancestors and ate them like sushi.

A massive solar flare forced them into the deep sea, where they built an empire and waited for the day to reclaim the surface. Now, that moment has come.

Led by KING ABYSS, the deep-sea organization FOODIE discovered an ancient stone pillar that materializes human negative emotions into monstrous creatures—Food Beasts. They hatched a terrifying plan to send these monsters out into a modern society overflowing with negative emotions, devastate the surface, and rebuild a FOODIE paradise on Earth once again.

Several years ago, Dr. Jun Ichinotani discovered a prophetic stone pillar that revealed a future of human extinction. He developed the anti-FOODIE weapon "Miracle 3D Goggles" using the sacred power of the ocean to stop the destruction. But before his research was complete, he was attacked and disappeared.

His assistant, the female scientist Ann Morohoshi, while organizing the doctor's remaining research, accidentally discovered the doctor's message—"If anything happens to me, please give these to my son Ken"—along with the three prototype goggles. Reading the impending crisis on the surface from the doctor's message, she tracked down the doctor's son, Ken Ichinotani, who was training as a sushi apprentice in America, explained the doctor's true intentions to him when he refused by saying, "I have no idea what you're talking about," and forcefully handed them over to him.

One day, a Tofu Beast sent by FOODIE suddenly appeared on the surface. As it attempted to attack the city, along with a siren-like sound, the 3D goggles fastened onto Ken's face, transforming him into Sushi Mask. As if mocking Ken, who had no idea what was happening, the Tofu Beast slammed him down onto the ground. At that moment, the sky flashed brilliantly for a split second, and a girl named Yuki, dressed in a ninja costume like a fairy, fluttered down in front of Ken. However, before the Tofu Beast's overwhelming power, the girl ninja Yuki was also blown away. Yuki screamed, "Master, please!" At that moment, amidst thunder, a figure carrying a large shrimp tempura on its back appeared on the rooftop of a building. "Tempura Ninja, reporting for duty!"

Now, the fate of humanity rests on their fight.

This is not just the birth story of a single hero.
This is the birth story of a new universe formed to save the world from darkness.
