Profile

With over a decade of experience in Audio Production, I have steadily built my career from the ground up by creating high quality, custom audio projects and fostering professional relationships with my clients. Energetic, proactive, professional and always willing to learn, I am always striving to better my skills and refine my workflow in order to be a truly integral part of any creative team. My goal is always to return dividends to a company that wishes to invest in my skills and give me the opportunity to bring my artistic vision to their projects. I strive to deliver the highest quality custom work I can and ensure my clients needs are always met and the final product reflects their desires and artistic goals.
