EMPLOYMENT SUMMARY

June 2008 - Current Freelance Stylist under my own brand name – Owner / Manager / Stylist
STYLEbudd, South Africa

Jan 2002 – May 2007 Freelance Stylist, Wardrobe & Art Dept Assistant Radical Crew
South Africa

COMPETENCY EXAMPLES

Client/Customer Centric

In my role at STYLEbudd, my duties include Coordinating sales & hiring, design and manufacture of all costumes & props, outsourcing them to our local costume makers & seamstresses. I liaise with the clients, making sure that all styling, costumes, props are to their utmost satisfaction. As Manager/Owner of STYLEbudd my client base varies from the "everyday" man on the street, to film producers, Directors & event planners. I endeavor to keep them happy and supply whatever they require.

Analytical/Problem Solving

Running my own brand name I have learnt to handle each and every situation as it arises. First understanding the needs of the client, in the creative field is of utmost importance, working within the required budget and making sure the product is always delivered on time.

Planning/Creativity

As a Stylist my main objective is to style each artist as per the Director's treatment to the very best of my ability. Bearing in mind colour, texture, setting and context for each shoot, we make sure that the look & feel are in line with what the Director has requested and has approved with their client. Planning wardrobe fittings, correct sizing, length and style all go hand in hand when styling for film & TV. Styling also requires props sourcing, buying, arranging of manufacturing when so required. Set dressing, standby & interaction with Director & client on shoot days. In the costume department I arrange all sample fabrics, signing off and final approvals from the production process beginning with overseeing all art work done by my artists right through to the final hand over of the completed product.
