

Dear World,

With series of projects and relentless determination within the entertainment field,
Paul Jonas Productions has become an established production company.
Having graphic design as a thriving force and being a producer and creator, i've developed myself in writing, editing, videography, animation and marketing.

During my position as a phone sales agent in the marketing company Unit Media 2018 - 2019, i acquired knowledge about sales techniques. After top sales performances, i was trusted the opportunity to improve the script in order to reach elevated sales targets for the firm. It was a revelation to experience how specific changes in the script improved the ultimate sales results.
I also learned the importance of condensing, applying correct wording, and how much details matter.
Keeping a potential buyer interested throughout the call is crucial. I regard these skills as highly valuable, while i continue to develop my knowledge base further. I've transformed these assets into marketing strategies, while industry partnerships and sponsorships have been attained.

I'm sure you will notice my creativity, motivation, focus and drive in both words and visuals.
Producing intriguing, attention bringing quality products is my priority. I'm certain i will meet your high standard and reach new goals along the way. I truly hope you will give me the opportunity to prove my qualification, since i'm confident i will help you achieve more and excel further.
