

SARAH JANE MC CARTHY ~ Author, Editor, Screenwriter

I'm an Irish author and freelance writer turned screenwriter... and I've done many other things in a past life including teaching abroad and establishing a shop selling artisan French/Irish produce. I am the author of an exciting trilogy of adult fiction thrillers, entitled the PROJECT CODE-X TRILOGY : 1. Alpha is the Beginning , 2. Beta to Psi , 3. Omega is the End. I have also forayed into screenwriting and my first film script, PROJECT CODE-X : The Alpha Plan, is an adaptation of my first novel, PROJECT CODE-X : Alpha is the Beginning.

I love movies, books, the stage and the beauty of well-crafted words and stories. I have previously collaborated with the wonderful editor of my screenplays, Rosalind Winton (a former blog editor for Stage 32) to create a beautiful, colourful magazine for ALL creative types to find artistic inspiration and to share their passion projects. FRINGE MAGAZINE was a bi-annual magazine on a mission to encourage and promote creativity and the arts, and to continuously celebrate the wonderful gift of imagination. As Rosalind described it, Fringe was "an upbeat, positive and bright magazine, full of articles and features purposely written and sourced to provide easy reading and new outlooks on aspects of life that become lost in the fast paced world we live in." To read previous editions of our magazine, please visit my profile on Stage 32. [Caveat --> But please note that we are currently no longer welcoming submissions or feature suggestions as this was a past venture that folded due to personal reasons].

My previous educational background is a first class honours degree in Business and French from University College Cork, Ireland, which I obtained in 2008. More recently, in 2018, I participated in a film industry mentorship course with Emmy-award winning Producer, Kip Konwiser. The information I garnered on this course was invaluable to me and I continue to hone my screenwriting craft and knowledge of the film industry through further educational resources and courses that are available on Stage 32.

On a personal note, I am also a privileged mom of two beautiful children, who I'd like to see inherit a better world and brighter future. My deep passion centres around the type of world our children will inherit up ahead and I try to infuse this into everything I write. I am always open to interesting creative collaborations (and will travel), so please get in touch if you would like to discuss any of my project ideas, any of your project ideas, or any of the causes I'm interested in, namely, the present/future wellbeing of our children and the health of our planet.

What I'm Currently Working On: (Apart from my day job) I am currently working on an audiobook version of my first book with Julian Harrison, writer of Push Back, as well as working on the cover art for book two (part two) of my trilogy, as well as possibly collaborating with another writer here on Stage 32 on an exciting horror script over the course of the next several weeks. I am also finishing up book three of my trilogy - the book filled with many shocking revelations! And if you are curious, why not listen to the original song composition by Martin Mc Carthy - Song of the Wind - which I have uploaded in the links section of my Stage 32 profile. This haunting tune is the theme song of the Project Code-X trilogy.
