

Lauren Craig is a represented writer/producer in Los Angeles who is passionate about true stories and existing IP in the crime/drama romance space. Her original work explores love, loss, familial dynamics, generational trauma, and defying the odds.

With over a decade of experience as a development executive and producer (p.g.a.) in independent action/thriller films, Lauren has contributed to notable projects like "Cut Throat City," directed by The RZA, and "Synchronic," directed by Moorhead & Benson, both of which reached the #1 spot on Netflix's "Top Ten in the U.S." in 2021. Additionally, "Running with the Devil" made it to Netflix's "Top Ten Global" chart in 2022.

As the Director of Development at Patriot Pictures, Lauren served as the creative liaison from concept to delivery for various theatrical and streaming projects across platforms like Hulu, HBO, Amazon, and more. Lauren has also worked as a screenwriting consultant and analyst for Script Reader Pro, Roadmap Writers, and Bluecat Screenplay Competition.

Lauren considers herself a part of the next generation of voices and leaders in the industry. She is active member of the Producers Guild of America, a board member for the Hollywood Radio & Television Society, and an alumni cabinet member for UCSD Arts and Humanities, where she studied literature and writing. Her writing accolades include being a finalist in MTV's First Time Screenwriters Contest in 2022 and first runner-up in Screencraft's Virtual Pitch Competition in 2024, with her pitch recognized as one of Coverfly's "Top 20 of the Year" in 2025.