Education

Comics international school (2020-2022)

- Music composition & sound design for cinema tv and videogames.

During the course I studied how to create music and sound design for films, cartoons, commercials, documentaries, video games, etc. through an in-depth study of the so-called cinematic musical language and the use of the latest musical technologies. I have covered topics related on the one hand to the purely musical field and on the other hand to the more technical one, with a special focus on sound management and the finalization of my product.

Musiclab (2019-2020)

- Sound engineer school.

In this course, I learned how to govern the different phases of audio, music and multimedia production processes that allow for the operation of state-of-the-art technologies for the creation of musical, multimedia, audio/video productions, as well as the recording and mixing of soundtracks for television, theater and multimedia shows, including final mastering.

Manage a music production with the use of computer tools
Coordinate activities in a studio or live audio direction
Enter into recording, production, post-production, multimedia centers, theaters, venues, audio services, audio/video and television studios.

Apm - school of advanced musical training (2019)

- Orientation to new musical technologies

In this course, I learned the fundamental knowledge for a proper approach to the world of audio, audio/video and multimedia production and provides basic technical/specialist knowledge, including assisted study and practical use of equipment.

Itis Enzo Ferrari (2014-2019)

- Electronic technical institute
