

Volkan "Walkie" Durakcay

Screenwriter | Script Doctor | Story Consultant

Former sniper champion. Netflix screenwriter. Student of silence.

Volkan Durakcay writes where high-concept imagination meets grounded emotional truth. His work spans psychological thrillers, animation, high fantasy, and tech-driven YA — always with an eye on cinematic structure and character psychology.

Selected credits:

- Co-writer, Netflix drama series (dialogue, pacing, emotional arcs)
- The Devil is Getting Married – Scriptapalooza Quarterfinalist (2021)
- The Last Evangelist (USA web series) – Co-writer
- Sniper Eagle – Selected by German director for production
- Animated fantasy series – In development (Canada)

What makes him different:

He speaks English, Chinese, and Arabic. He holds degrees in Environmental Sciences and Religious Studies. He once aimed a rifle for a living — now he aims words at the human condition. Former sergeant, sniper champion, diver, glider pilot, and martial artist, he brings rare tactical authenticity to every action sequence and mystical depth to every character arc.

"I traded a rifle for a keyboard," he says. "Same focus. Less noise. More truth."
